Hey Stephanie,

Equality shouldn't be a right we have to fight for in 2020, but here we are. This month, we're celebrating National Black Business Month and National Women's Equality Day. (August 26).

Now more than ever, it's crucial to be an ally for Black lives and women's rights. From the products you purchase to the content you consume, it's not difficult to get started.

If you're experiencing information overload from your social feeds on how to be an activist, this edition of Beauty School is a great place to start. Read on to learn about how you can honor Black lives and women, too.
